

Councilors to Hold Hearing on Large House Parties

SUBMITTED BY COUNCILOR ED FLYNN

BOSTON - Boston City Councilors Ed Flynn, Michael Flaherty, and Liz Bredon will be hosting a virtual hearing regarding large house parties this Friday, November 6th, at 11am. The Councilors filed this hearing order in mid-October to discuss ways to better enforce rules regarding house parties and indoor gatherings. There have been concerning reports from neighbors regarding large house parties and their potential to become superspreader events due to a lack of proper physical distancing and mask wearing. Neighbors have also highlighted loud noise and trash removal issues as negatively impacting their quality of life. This hearing order aims to discuss methods that the city can

Community Music Center of Boston interrogates musical "quality"

Can culturally-responsive music education lead to excellence?

SUBMITTED BY CMC

The Community Music Center of Boston (CMCB) announces its next Community Conversation to take place Thursday, November 12 from 5:30-7pm on Zoom. This event is free and open to the public.

Musicians work tirelessly to bring their artistry and technique to the highest levels possible. But as the music field delves into issues of inclusion and equity, the words "quality" and "excellence" are often mentioned in response, as though in opposition.

As we begin to use expressions such as "learner-centered" and "culturally-responsive" to define our vision for the future, this Community Conversation will offer a fuller understanding of these words that both respects and describes art and artists in the 21st century.

Mr. Washington has been invited to give similar presentations,

ASK DOG LADY

Advice on Pets, Life, Love

BY MONICA COLLINS

Dear Dog Lady,

I adopted a toy poodle last year from an owner who decided to move back to Hong Kong and not take the dog. He is currently seven-years-old and isn't neutered. I know that all dogs should be neutered to prevent overpopulation and unwanted behavior, but due to his age, is the procedure still suitable for him?

—Alexandra

Dear Alexandra,

Oh yes, neutering a male dog of any age is the responsible thing to do. Recently, Dog Lady ran into a veterinarian she knows while out walking her dog. He was walking his unfixed dog. Dog Lady was a mite shocked by this display since spaying and neutering dogs is so important for their health and welfare – at any age and stage. You're doing the right thing for the toy poodle – both neutering him and providing a new home.

Dear Dog Lady,

My dog Buddy is a great dog and very friendly. When he jumps up on people, I can understand that but I can't understand why Buddy pees on his own leg while lying in the hallway as we wait for the elevator. He would rather be punished than wait a few seconds more to make it outside. Maybe he can't control it, but he rarely pees in the apartment. What gives?

—Peter

Dear Peter,

Your first mistake is to claim you use to ensure that public health and noise regulations are followed, including the possibility of raising fines.

As we remain in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic, large house parties are concerning not only because their potential to become superspreader events, but also due to their noise and impact on the quality of life for our residents, as these parties often leave behind trash and litter on the street, attracting rodents and pests. In Governor Baker's COVID-19 Order #52, it states that there should never be more than 25 persons in a single enclosed, indoor space, and failure to comply may result in a civil fine of up to $500 per violation.

Councilor Flynn held a Zoom meeting last month with 90 neighbors and officials from the Inspectional Services Department (ISD) and the Boston Police Department (C-6), who continued to encourage residents to contact 911 for them to come and enforce regulations on noise levels and gatherings. If a property is a repeated offender, residents are encouraged to email Aisha Miller, Assistant Commissioner with ISD, at Aisha.Miller@boston.gov to investigate the property and potentially place it on the city's Problem Properties List. As we continue to hear these reports of house parties, we need to talk about stricter enforcement of the Governor's order and further mechanisms to disincentivize people from having large parties, including stricter enforcement, and increasing the fines on repeat offenders.

"As we continue to hear about COVID-19 cases spiking not only nationally, but with rising positivity rates locally in the city and state, these reports of large house parties in our city remain a serious concern," said Councilor Flynn. "The Governor has stated for several weeks that our young people are driving the single biggest rise in cases. It is critical for our young professionals, and all residents, to refrain from reckless and inconsiderate behavior with no physical distancing or mask wearing that could potentially create superspreader events, along with other quality of life concerns. With winter approaching and the potential for a second wave locally, it is crucial to discuss strict enforcement, higher fines and penalties for offenders."

For more information on the hearing, please visit <https://www.boston.gov/public-notices/13670436>, or contact Councilor Flynn's office at 617-635-3203 or Ed.Flynn@Boston.gov.

understand Buddy's jumping up on people. Do the people utter an expletive as the dog pounces on them? Buddy needs training. In Dog Lady's rule book, jumping on innocent passersby is a much worse dog offense than peeing in the hallway.

How do you discipline your dog? You shouldn't be punishing; you should be rewarding for good behavior. If Buddy doesn't jump, give him a high-test treat. If Buddy makes it all the way outside without peeing in the hallway, praise him lavishly and slip him a yummy. Dogs understand positive feedback better than negative yelling. Also, they learn with repetition. Do the same thing over and over.

Be good to your dog; don't expect an Einstein at first.

Dear Dog Lady,
I thought of your column over the weekend when, while on my exercise walk around my neighborhood, I saw (very gross) evidence that someone is penning their dog on their outdoor porch every day, letting the dog poop there and then not cleaning it up! I feel so bad for that dog — and what a way to teach it bad manners! The owner is probably complaining that the dog does its business in the house. What do they expect?! Please keep educating the public!

—Julie

Dear Alexandra,

Amen, sister. Your note should remind all of us that being good to a dog is allowing the animal to live with kindness, civility and grace. Dog Lady could barely read this but knows that the humans who live here are probably suffering far worse than the dog.

People, it's OK not to have a dog. Really. Not everybody must have one or two or however many. You choose to have a dog when you can handle the creature. Bringing a dog into an unsafe environment without training, daily outings, healthy food, clean water, a soft place to sleep and regular veterinarian visits is just not fair, responsible and humane. This letter reminds us of the sad situation when the humans fail an animal.
